LOCAL NOTES.

Col. Cornwell is in town.
No gambling on the track on Monday.

The Kongo will remain in port till the end of the month.

The art-exhibition is drawing very well.

Freeman will "feed" all the animals on Monday.

The Kinau and Claudine came into port early this morning.

Judge Cooper who has been hearing the case of the p.g. vs. Sylva returned today.

The Ayers-Mahuka case for breach of promise was on trial when the steamers left Maui.

The HOLOMUA will not be issued on Monday. What relief to Henry Castle.

The next meeting of the American League will take place on Tuesday next at the usual place and usual hour.

The 11th of June races will be the event of the year. A few unimportant withdrawals of horses don't interfere with the success of the day.

Deputy Marshal Arthur Brown went to Ewa yesterday to look for a Japanese murderer. He returned on the 5 o'clock train.

Cricket match this afternoon at Makiki. The H. C. C. will try to beat the "Lower Deck" of the Champion. The game begins at 3 o'clock sharp.

A Japanese man-of-war, built in Japan, and of the most improved model, will probably relieve the Takachiho in the near future.

Johnny Hayward was timed at 2:30 this morning. Between him and Nevada there ought to be a first-class Krapping match.

The wise men of the councils enjoyed hard work last night at a special meeting. They now all feel deserving of the gratitude of their fellow-men—and a salary.

A special excursion to Pearl City has been arranged for Monday. An excellent opportunity is offered by the O. R. and L. Co. to inspect the future capital of Hawaii.

The Bishop of Honolulu will continue his discourse on the Sabbath on Sunday evening at 7:30, in St. Andrew's Cathedral. The subject being "The progressive Memorials of the Sabbath."

Bill Larsen will be awfully busy tomorrow if he is to enforce the Sunday law. The shooting at Makiki, Portuguese Band, Training of horses, Barbershops, Shoe-blacks, Cigar sellers and parsons, all have to be stopped. Even the hacks can't run, and Sereno must walk to church.

The clock on the government building is getting as erratic as an Attorney General. The following hours are recorded at 7 o'clock in the morning as seen by a passer by: Thursday—2, Friday 11:45, Saturday 9 o'clock. What will it be tomorrow?

T. A. Simpson, the host of Sans Souci, will have a most elegant spread, at reasonable terms, at his hotel, Sans Souci, on Monday, from 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Losers on the first races will find consolation by calling on Simpson.

Chas. Day will in the future mix the well-known Oyster Cocktails, and the famous Punch for which the Anchor is celebrated. Billy Cunningham will continue to train dogs, magpies and cats. John Cookley will assist Harry Miller in the Pantheon in administering to the thirsty traveller.

The Art League.

A number of citizens who either professionally or as amateurs have devoted their time to art, have come together and formed a League which it is hoped will be supported, and encouraged by all who desire to see Hawaii follow along in the wake of civilization, and Honolulu, not alone in practical and every day ideas, become the equal of the capitals of the world.

A representative of the HOLOMUA was invited by Mr. Howard Hitchcock to visit the exhibition of the Art League at the store of King Bros. on Hotel street. Responding to the invitation the HOLOMUA man called around this morning at the studio of Mr. Hitchcock, and found the young artist busily occupied with a class of ladies who desire to learn how to draw and how to paint. Mr. Hitchcock kindly left the class to work out their own salvation and absented himself with the reporter. The object of the Art League, said Mr. Hitchcock, is to encourage local talent and to endeavor to stimulate and elevate the taste for art among the people. As it now is, four fifths of the "best" people don't know the difference between a painting and a daub. It is to be hoped that the efforts of the Art League will help to refine the coming generations. The proposition is to hold a semi annual exhibition of works of art. Everybody will be invited to exhibit, and a jury will decide if the offered works are worthy of exhibition or not. The principles followed by the great European Art Exhibitions will be adopted, with such modifications, as the infancy of art in this country demands. Many people here have studied art in Europe among whom the most noteworthy are Miss A. Parke, A. Hutchinson and Howard Hitchcock.

The exhibition at King Bros. is worth inspecting. In spite of the narrow room the different works are given justice to. It would take too much space to mention all the works exhibited. The portrait of Dr. Geo. Trousdale by Howard Hitchcock is excellent. The artist painted it from photographs and descriptions and he could not have been more successful in his task even if he had known and loved the Doctor as the Hawaiian people did. The Queen's Hospital should secure the picture. It belongs there and would be a proper memorial of the ever humane, ever friendly physician. Mr. Hitchcock's "Village By-Road" is a superb work. Nothing can be said better in its favor than it was accepted in 1893 by the jury of the Paris Salon and exhibited. Anybody conversant with the stringent rules of the Salon, and the difficulty for foreigners to exhibit, will know what an acceptance means. The landscape is fresh and lively in tone, and will remind all foreigners from the North of the old, sweet home.

Miss Parke's water colors are very delicate and exquisitely carried out in the smallest detail. "Diamond Head" is one of the prettiest and most natural description of that spot that any brush could produce. It is to be hoped that Miss Parke will often devote her talents to local scenery. Her "New England Field" is also very artistic, and shows how studios and careful of execution Miss Parke is.

A. Hutchinson, the well known sculptor, has several works on exhibition. While many prefer the bust of Robert Stevenson, the gem among his works undoubtedly is the bust of Henry Carter, the young son of C. L. Carter. That work would be admitted to any exhibition in the most fastidious circles in Europe. The bust is in plaster, but should certainly be worked in marble. It is well worth preserving.

Mrs. Graham has several works in wood on exhibition. She has proven herself an artist in her line with a most unique and original taste. The frames carved by her are only equalled by works from the 16th century. All platitude has been avoided with grace and beauty in a most acceptable manner.

Among other exhibitors we notice Mrs. Tucker, who has got some very pleasing water-colors well worthy of inspection.

Tavernier is represented by a landscape from Waiakea. It is one of the most finished works of the lamented artist. The fine detail, and the juicy colors will command everybody's admiration. That such a picture is not in private possession is one of the wonders that no man can explain.

At some future day we shall mention the exhibition again. In the meantime it is to be hoped that all the people who do—or at least pretend to—love art will visit the gallery. Mr. W. King is always in attendance, and with his well-known courtesy and store of information will make a call at the gallery as pleasant as can be.

We cannot see why the p. g. should be so very shocked because the firm of T. H. Davies & Co. suggested to the minister of foreign affairs that the Hawaiian Government might secure the services of Mr. Theo. H. Davies at the Inter Colonial Congress in Ottawa. Mr. Davies is, undoubtedly, opposed to the present government; but he certainly is not opposed to the interests of Hawaii. It was to be able to represent them in the most efficient manner that he would be willing to represent the de facto government.

In an official capacity he could serve this country better than in a private one, and he has simply expressed a readiness to swallow his own personal feelings to, for the time, forget the insults heaped upon him by the junta, and use his influence and energy in promoting the welfare of Hawaii. That such unselfishness and true patriotism is beyond the comprehension of Mr. Hatch and the other small souls who rule to rule is not surprising. Mr. Hatch and his colleagues overlook the fact that Mr. Davies has immense financial interests in this country, and own more than all the courtiers put together. The "secrecy negotiations" in regard to the cable is good. We are afraid that they never will come to light. In the meantime Hawaii will not be represented at the Inter-Colonial Conference, and the commercial interests of Hawaii will suffer. But then Mr. Hatch is not deeply interested in our commerce. Had it been the Oahu Railroad Co. he might have acted differently.

Hawaiian Hardware Company

The Advertiser who catches a persons eye usually wins a customer. Many different styles of advertising have been adopted and with more or less success, by the believers in the use of printers ink. The manufacturers of Pears Soap, for instance, occasionally buy paintings that have been on exhibition in the Paris Salon and have lithographs made from them for the purpose of bringing their product before the people. In addition to such side issues, Pears spends hundreds thousands of dollars annually among the newspapers and magazines. Some years ago the Agents of certain article on sale in New York made a hit in advertising by having on Broadway during business hours two fatness dressed Negroes wearing very high collars, on the backs of which was printed "Use Smiths Pills." The idea was novel and the public caught on. Rising Sun Stove Polish has been kept before the public for years through persistent, and sometimes expensive advertising. Twenty odd years ago the manufacturers of this polish started half a dozen men across the continent to paint signs on rocks and fences. The Aeromotor Co., of Chicago have increased its sales more than five hundred per cent in two years by the use of printers ink. We believe we have been instrumental in increasing the sales of the Aeromotor by keeping everlastingly at it in Hawaii.

We do not wish to say that advertising will sell any manufactured article; there is no use spending money in advertising "cheap and nasty" goods because the people will not be hoodwinked. If Haviland China was not the superior article it is, all our advertising of it would not have sold the thousands of pieces that we have. We simply call the attention of the people to it and its superior quality is apparent to the customer directly a piece of it is examined.

Printers ink has helped the sale of the James Locked Fence but it would not have done so if it had been as flimsy as the old dinky wire fence. First; the economy there is in building it recommends it to the plantation manager and then its durability clinches the sale. If the stays and washers cost as much as an ordinary redwood post our sales of the material would not have reached such enormous proportions.

Our average sale of the Pansy Iron Stove is about two a day the year round. It was not the best iron stove on the market we would not sell that many in six months. Advertising is the tip to the public the good points in the article sells it just as the good qualities of the Fischer Steel Range make it a desirable article for people who wish to economise in the use of fuel.

We buy only what has proven good after people in the United States or Europe have given it a trial; we profit by their experience if the articles are good we buy and sell them; if they are poor we steer clear of them. When we advertise an article it is to attract attention to it; the newspaper is the button we push, the salesman does the rest.

Persistent advertising coupled with the article being a superior one has sold thousands of the Frank Walcott Emory File. If it had been no better than an ordinary scythe stone we probably would not have sold twenty. When a man finds out that his table knives may be kept sharp at all times at an expense of fifty cents and a very little elbow grease he is quite willing to try the experiment.
